

Announcement

Wednesday July 30, 2014 – Toronto,
Ontario

Anita DeVille–Lee, former Service Director of Imagine That Family Care Services has taken the role of President and Managing Director of Imagine That Family Care Services Inc. effective immediately. Our service offerings remain the same and include backup care for individuals of all ages — children, adults and seniors.

Employers can set up Imagine That Corporate Family Backup Care for their employees. This service, once set up by the employer, is available to employees, as backup care, for when employees experience temporary disruptions in child, adult, or elder care that would otherwise prevent them from fulfilling work obligations.

The range of Imagine That Family Care Services is available to individuals and families living in or travelling to Toronto and the Greater Toronto Area.

About Imagine That Family Care Services

Imagine That Family Care Services Inc. is a Canadian–owned and operated company, committed to providing the highest quality services to individuals of all ages. The services of Imagine That were first offered in 2001 under the name Improv Care Services for Children. It was a division of Bartimaeus Inc. which was founded in 1988. The expansion into Imagine That Family Care Services was a result of the dedication to the highest quality of services that are safe, engaging, and professional.
